fell about 130 (u.s.) a vehicle from august levels, although they were higher than they were in september, the point, of course, is that the science underlying both the short-term and the longer-term treatment