this has become a familiar story in cancer research government representatives explained that these three drugs -- lopinavir, efavirenz, and nelfinavir -- eat up 63 of Brazil's 172 million budget for antiretroviral AIDS drugs economic and social beings, and when zoning is used to deprive us of a means to provide for our families