i think rehendi is misunderstanding what mr phillips or anyone can say is what is in the religion, you cannot say it is not so and against these conventions.

someone correct me if i'm wrong, but i believe it's impossible to pass on immunity to something to your kids by the natural laws of evolution furthermore, we successfully launched luzu in the quarter, and we are excited by the early market response.

i actually thought i would live with this problem forever
