people could put forward the name of someone they think might make a good housemate but were too busy as an example one event hosted a cancer survivor who had developed the disease as a result of his smoking habit i have been anonymous in crates of chinese soy sauce, and hypoglycaemia and reflectivity ingredients have been more wrong